

WEEKLY CHAMPION.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, '85.

Pointers for Stockmen.

Do not crowd stock in loading.
Do not fancy that other men are less smart than you in judging a good time to ship. Usually you will find that a great many others saw and acted as you did.

Do not buy reckless because you are using somebody else's money.

Do not forget that your stock naturally looks better to you than to any one else.

Ship the best stock you can, but in order not to be disappointed, do not expect to capture the "top" price of the market.

Remember that your cattle, hogs or sheep may be the best in the neighborhood or in the county, but don't forget that this is a big country.

Don't ask your commission man to cut rates for you. He does not charge too much for doing your work well, and you cannot afford to have it done otherwise.

It does not pay to buy dear stock to keep a rival from getting it. It is better to force him to buy that kind.

Do not go on the "make-or-lose-everything" principle. You will sleep better, enjoy life better and have more money provided against a rainy day and old age, by working less spasmodically and speculatively.

Do not be discouraged at having taken a little blither with the sweet.

Do not hire a commission man if you know better than he does what your stock is worth or when it should be sold.

Never employ a man if he cannot withstand the temptation of liquor.

Do not call the buyers thieves and rogues until you know them to be such. Some sordid, dyspeptic grumblers, who do not know how to manage their own business, think every man who makes a success must do it dishonestly.

Do not come to the city to have a lark. Many a shipper who rails at the unprofitableness of his business, might better rail at his own animal appetites and beastly conduct while in the city.

Do not forget that when stock comes to market it is for sale, and that there are nine chances out of ten that it cannot be sold so well at any time after as on the day of arrival.

It is risky business, gambling on the future price of anything. Better keep well posted and buy on the market as closely as possible.

Keep well supplied with good stock journals, and always liberally patronize local publications.—Ex.

Raid on Chinese.

At Rock Springs, Wyoming, a terrible raid was made upon the Chinese population on the 2d and 3d of this month. Every Chinaman, over 500 in number, were driven out of town. Fifty houses belonging to the railroad company and fifty more owned by Chinamen were burned. Fifteen dead Chinamen were found after the fire and as many more are thought to be in the ruins.

The Chinamen fled to the hills west of town without food, afraid to go to Green River City, distant about ten miles. Gov. Warren was called to Rock Springs. No more trouble is anticipated. Food was sent to the starving Chinamen in the hills by the authorities.

A Florida hotel keeper tried the experiment of throwing coal oil into the ponds and stagnant pools of water to prevent the propagation of mosquitoes. He found that it prevented the insects from hatching and his plan is coming into general use.

Among medicinal means of arresting disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands pre-eminent. It checks the further progress of all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, revives the vital stamina, prevents and remedies febrile and fever, increases the activity of the kidneys, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism, and is a genuine stay and solace to aged, infirm and nervous persons. The article is, moreover, derived from the purest and most reliable sources. For sale by all druggists and dealers generally.
